

Register of Drinking Water Suppliers for New Zealand

PART TWO: Water Carriers

2018 Edition

Printed June 2018

The Register of Drinking-water Suppliers in New Zealand is printed annually by the Ministry of Health, as required by section 69J (4) of the Health Act 1956. This document is one part of this Register and lists networked supplies serving 25 or more people.

Registration is actioned through drinking-water assessors at the public health units of district health boards, and is valid for one year. The Register documents 218 Water Carriers, for which 138 have current registration, as recorded in the Drinking Water Online database on 28 June 2018.

Water carriers are grouped in the Register by health district. Health districts are in north to south order, and carriers are listed alphabetically within those.

Interpreting a Register Entry

Trading Name for Carrier

Owner:	Owner name Owner address Town or city
Carrier Code:	Unique code for carrier, eg WC00123
Registration:	Status: = "Current" if registered/re-registered in the last 12 months: = "Lapsed" if last registration was more than 12 months ago. In either case, the date of the last day of registration is indicated. Initial: The date that the carrier was first registered. History: The starting date of each registration period, earliest first.

Extraction Zones

One or more distribution zones for registered network or other supplies from which the water can be sourced for cartage.
Each distribution zone has a unique 8 character zone code, the first 6 characters of which identify the parent supply code for that supply.

Tanks

One or more trucks, trailers, railway wagons, ships or transportable tanks by which the carrier is registered to transport the water.
Each tank has a unique code in the Register. The owner may also have a code for the tank, which for a truck or trailer is the vehicle's number plate.

Fittings

Identifies the types of hoses and fittings used by the carrier in handling the water.
